Afternoon.

My Dearest Lon.

Yours of Tuesday night rcvd with the Enclosed English letter. What a lovely friend! I thank you so much for sending his letter to me. How would you like it for Sunshine to come home just a month from now, night after Easter. I wonder if you would rather I did not — I am taking a lesson every day now to double up time as I feel almost certain Daddy wants to be off early in April. I was extravagant and bought a bunch of violets down the street this morning. They have made me so happy, smelling of the delicious wet spring woods, as they do. They seem to hold the essence of the damp rich turf in them.

What a shame it is that my letters han miscarried to the people at home; Elsie writes me this morning that they han heard nothing over the concert. and I han written Imie & Ernest, Tonee & Laura. I rote them all the day after the concert; I is mos. exasperating

I is now evening - dearest — Yours of Wednesday night came by the 6 o'clock mail tonight instead of waiting for tomorrow morning. How funny that I should han just decided to come home at Easter and written you so, before reading your statement of Papa's desires.

All worked together for good and I am so happy at the thought of coming home to you all. It seems too good to be true.

Pierre has sat in my room every night since Sunday, and read "John" & do believe from little words & thoughts dropped that I am getting hold of him. May blessed me, good night

Your own Sunshine
